discussion of the principles of the theory of the function of the mind. It is shown that the mind is not a passive organ, but an active organ, and that it is capable of receiving information from the outside world, and of acting upon the outside world.

My dear Mr. Taylor

I have just received your letter of the 2nd inst. in relation to the proposed edition of the works of the late Mr. Taylor. I am very glad to hear that you are so much interested in the subject, and I am sure that your efforts will be successful in bringing about the publication of the works of this great man.

I have no objection to your publishing the works of the late Mr. Taylor, and I am sure that your edition will be the best and most complete that has yet appeared.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
J. Taylor
